Board members wanted

We are urgently looking for new dedicated board members for the upcoming semester. Currently, the following positions are still open:

- External Relations:

Your tasks are to maintain contact with companies in the construction industry, take care of AIV sponsorships and organize exciting field trips and construction site visits.

- Editorial:

You are responsible for the NAIIV and NAIVINO, the two student journals of AIV. You decide on which topics you would like to write articles on.

If one of these positions appeals to you, we highly encourage you to contact us. If you are interested in other positions, you can also contact us. It is always possible to reshuffle the position each member holds, so if there are any other jobs that you would like to take up, do not hesitate to contact us. The earlier you join the board, the better. 😊 If you have any questions, feel free to come to a board meeting, which is always held in HXE C 23 on Thursdays at 11:35. Otherwise we can be reached at vorstand@aiv.ethz.ch

As a member of the board, you will get to know what is going on behind the scenes at ETH and AIV. You will work closely with students from all semesters, get to know many exciting people, both Civil Engineers and those from other study programs. Depending on the position, you will work with companies, the VSETH, other professional associations or even ETH internal bodies.

Survey D-BAUG chatGPT

Since December, there is a new tool, chatGPT, which has found widespread use and great popularity world-wide as a text processing tool or speech bot. We would therefore like to learn about students' experiences with AI-based tools for learning, teaching and research at D-BAUG and invite them to participate in our short survey. The results are anonymous and will be presented anecdotally with individual examples and summarized at the D-BAUG department conference and a teaching specialist blog article.
