Working Group «Change of name»

Dear AIV members

In the last two spring semester General Assemblies (GA) of SS22 and SS23 the topic of changing the name of the AIV came up. Although the proposal was rejected both times (revisions of the statutes require a 2/3 majority), a simple majority backed the proposal and passionate and detailed debates were held on it. The AIV sees the problem of the proposers and wants to be further involved in the issue to move the process forward. As was quite correctly argued at the GA, the AIV is the association of all civil engineering students at ETH, and we do not want members or students in our program to feel excluded or discriminated against. In order to find a solution that is as comprehensive and fair as possible, that can overcome the hurdle of 2/3, but more importantly that will find the greatest possible agreement among our members, we as a board want to support the formation of a working group. Two AIV members have already contacted the board with this wish and the board is ready to contribute to help the group.

Therefore, we want to make an appeal to you. We would be very happy if a as broad group as possible (no matter what position someone takes in this debate) is formed so that the problematics can be addressed in detail and a solution as inclusive and long-term as possible can be found. Among the topics to be discussed are:

- Procedure for a future name change: questioning whether the need exists and, if so, how it can best be achieved (gendering, English name, etc.)
- Name variants and their meaning for inclusion and the AIV
- Procedure for a later revision of the statutes
- Possible problems associated with this topic or resulting from it.

From today's board, 4 people have also already signed up so that the AIV can stay informed and also help with the process. It is time for the members to also participate in this significant issue and find the best possible solution for the next generations of civil engineers in this association. We need you. We need your participation to make a change.

All interested parties can contact the AIV Presidium (praesidium@aiv.ethz.ch) by 16.04.2023. Thank you for your interest <3
