Brownbag - Effective preparation for exams with lecture recordings and ChatGPT

Have you already created your study plan for your exams?

Or are you looking for more effective methods to get the most out of your learning process? Then this lunch workshop is just right for you!

We invite all D-BAUG students to share best practices in learning with lecture notes and Large Language Models (LLM). The core of the event is to gain insights into how learning content can be better processed, cognitively anchored, and transferred to new problems (potential exam questions) with the help of lecture recordings and LLMs. These learning strategies are not only aimed at improving exam results but also at building long-term competencies to master them in the following semester.

What you can expect:

- Practical tips and tricks: Learn how to use lecture notes effectively for your exam preparation.
- Exchange of experiences: Exchange ideas with other students about proven learning strategies with LLMs.
- Expert insights: Learn from learning experts how to get the most out of your learning material.
- Free lunch: Benefit from a free lunch buffet.

Take this opportunity to fundamentally reflect on your learning strategies and prepare for your exams more reflectively. We look forward to an inspiring exchange and a productive workshop atmosphere!

When: Thursday, 23.5.2024, 12.15 - 13.15 o'clock

Where: HIL E 19.3 and Zoom

Registration: Brownbag (registration deadline 16.05.2024, limited number of participants)
