Visit to Zurich Airport, ZH – Excursion

As the largest airport in Switzerland, Zurich Airport—formerly known as Zurich-Kloten Airport—plays a crucial role in international air traffic. Today, the airport has a total of three runways.

The tour at Zurich Airport begins at Terminal 2 and leads to the security checkpoint, providing information about airlines and check-in procedures. After that, the group will proceed to the Airside Center. The Airside Center is the passenger hub of the airport, designed to resemble a wing, and offers stunning views of the apron through its large windows.

Using the Skymetro, the group will reach Dock E, where they can observe various aircraft types, pushbacks, and depending on the timing, takeoffs and landings. Following this, guests will visit the sorting facility, where luggage is processed on a 12 km conveyor belt. On the observation terrace E, there are views of the runways and the nature reserve.

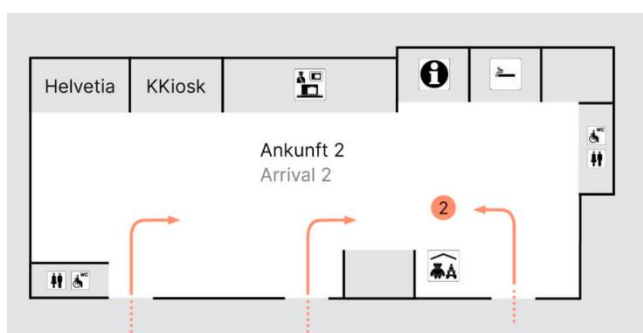

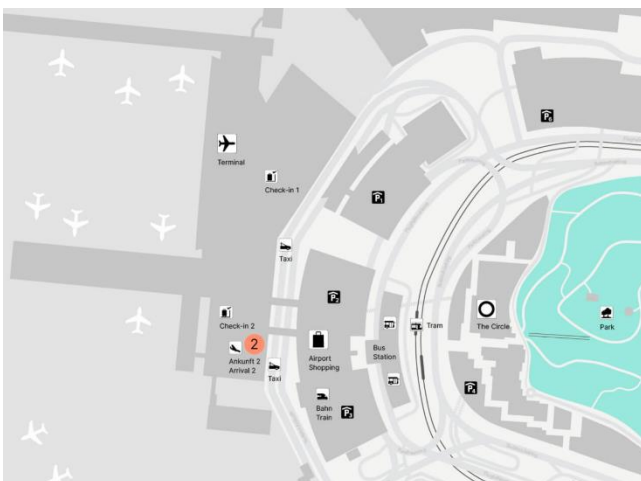

Date: 13.11.2024

Registration: <https://forms.gle/MUAFBds9MD8V8qHXA>

Important! Knowledge of and consent to the airport visitor terms and conditions linked therein are mandatory for registration.

Schedule: 15:10 o'clock Meeting Point Zurich Airport, Arrival 2

Lunch Kolloquium "Glattalbahn Stage 2A

Who Manages the Interfaces in Complex Infrastructure Projects?" (with Aperitif)

The extension of the Glattalbahn from the airport through the center of Kloten to the industrial area of Steinacker-Grindel (GTB2A) includes Lot 1, which covers the section from the airport to Obstgartenstrasse. The existing turning loop at the Freight Junction will be dismantled and newly positioned at the airport head, immediately after the stop Zürich Flughafen, Bahnhof. In parallel to the Glattalbahn route, a main bicycle connection (VHV) will also be established on the northern side along the entire lot. As a result, the GTB route will need to be realigned southward in the area of Flughafenstrasse. At the same time, adjustments to Flughafenstrasse will be necessary in this area due to the reorganization of the bike connections. Additionally, to enhance the space, a green strip with a row of trees will be arranged between the VHV and the GTB route.

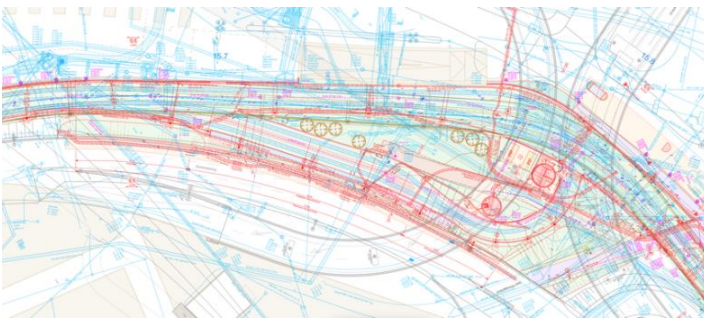

The Glattalbahn project takes into account the existing traffic areas as well as the planned reorganization of traffic access in the East Facht area of the airport. Furthermore, consideration must be given to a future expansion of the A51 motorway to six lanes. From the extensive variant study, a viaduct approximately 440 meters long will result, spanning the traffic areas at the Freight Junction and the motorway.

The structure is designed as a post-tensioned concrete box girder bridge with general spans of about 45 meters. In the area of the motorway crossing, the span increases to 120 meters. This area will be spanned with a cable-stayed construction. Two pylons, each 22 meters tall, will anchor 2 x 7 cables.

In the areas of the ramps and the Obstgartenstrasse stop, the existing Altbach between the GTB route and the VHV will be redesigned. The adjustments in elevation will also require a new streambed with a fish-friendly bypass ramp.
