Construction Site Tour on Engineers' Day 2026

On the occasion of Engineers' Day, professionals as well as curious adults and children can take a look behind the scenes of a major construction site on Scheuchzerstrasse in Unterstrass.

Since autumn 2025, the Civil Engineering Office has been installing district transmission networks on Scheuchzerstrasse in order to supply the area with sustainable energy from the northern part of the city. At the same time, the street space is being re-imagined: to create a more pleasant urban climate and reduce heat, more unsealed surfaces and shade-providing trees are being added according to the “sponge city” principle.

The event offers insights into the project, including the installation of the main supply lines as well as a tour of the underground energy center for district heating. The tour begins with an introduction and project presentation in the site container. Afterwards, participants will receive helmets and safety vests before heading onto the construction site.

The tour is open to all interested persons, but the number of places is limited. We look forward to receiving your registration by 27 February 2026. Participants are kindly asked to bring sturdy footwear.

- Location: Baucontainer Milchbuckstrasse 61, 8057 Zürich
- Date: Wednesday, March 4, 2026, from 12:15 p.m. to 1:15 p.m.
- Cost: free
- Registration: by February 27, 2026 registration and more information
